

Agenda

11.30 - 12.00 Registration

12.15 Welcome words

Prof. Volli Kalm, Rector of the University of Tartu

Dr. Kristiina Tõnnisson, Director of the UT European College

12.30 - 13.30 "Youth and Education"

"Why is it Important that Young people Will Take Part in Science Creating Process?"

Prof. Dr. med. Ulrich Stephani, University of Kiel

"The Learning Habits of Young People. The Need for Interdisciplinary Education and its Challenges."

Prof. Dr. Volker Lipp, University of Göttingen

"Graduating from high school - what next?"

Dr. Kerly Espenberg, University of Tartu

Followed by discussion lead by the students of University of Tartu

13.30 - 14.15 "Youth and Society"

"World Shifting Process and European Union. What are the Young People's Roles in Society?"

Dr. Florian Hartleb, University of Bonn

"Youngsters these days - needed or needy?"

Mr. Tarmo Puolokainen, University of Tartu

Followed by discussion lead by the students of University of Tartu

14.15 - 14.45 Coffee Break

14.45 - 15.30 "Youth and Internet"

"Personal Learning Environments, MOOCs and Learning Analytics - where is the relevance for the future of learning?"

Prof. Dr. Heinz U. Hoppe, University of Duisburg-Essen

"Internet in deep periphery: what kind of difference it makes to the migration of young people."

Mr. Veiko Sepp, University of Tartu

Followed by discussion lead by the students of University of Tartu

15.30 - 16.30 "Youth and Numbers"

“Young people’s Choices and Values. What the Figures Show?”

Prof. Dr. Sabine Andresen, Goethe University

“A random surfer in the internet.”

Dr. Peter Mathé, Weierstrass Institute

„From birth to Adulthood - the Price of Growing up.“

Ms. Kadri Lees, University of Tartu

Followed by discussion lead by the students of University of Tartu

16.30 - 16.45 Endnotes

Registration

Please send an e-mail by October 10 to brigita.salkute@ut.ee. The conference is free of charge!

Join the event in Facebook!

Academica is organized by University of Tartu, Estonia and supported by the Federation of Employers' Associations of North Rhine-Westphalia and the German Embassy in Estonia.